BENSON TO REMAIN HEAD OF SHIP BOARD

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 13.—Reappointment of Rear Admiral William S. Benson as chairman of the shipping board was announced today at the White House. At the same time announcement was made of the appointment of six other members of the new board authorized by the merchant marine act.

The other six members are:

Frederick I. Thompson, Alabama, Democrat, term of five years.

Joseph N. Teal, Oregon, Democrat, term of four years.

John A. Donald, New York, Democrat, term of three years.

Chester H. Howell, California, Republican, term of two years.

Ray D. Goff, Wisconsin, Republican, term of one year.

Charles Sutter, Missouri, Republican, term of one year.

The salaries fixed by law are $12,000 each commissioner. Members of the board must devote all of their time to the duties of their office and they must direct themselves from any interest which they may have in the shipping industry.

Admiral Benson and Mr. Donald are the Atlantic coast representatives; Mr. Howell and Teal are Pacific representatives; Mr. Thompson is a member from the Gulf coast; Mr. Goff, a member of the Great Lakes region, and Mr. Sutter the member for the interior. Under the law not more than four members of the board can be of any political party. Four Democrats and three Republicans have been appointed, but in some quarters today doubt was expressed whether the Republican would approve this political alignment in view of the fact that a Republican administration will come into power on next March fourth. It was regarded as possible that action on the nomination would be held up until after March 1.

Senators expressed a desire to make a special appropriation for the salaries of the members of the new board they were not expected to draw any pay until Congress at its next session has taken action on the bill.

Would Restrict Immigration To This Country

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 13.—Congress at the coming session will be urged by the House committee on immigration to restrict admission of aliens to this country to close blood relatives of naturalized citizens, Representative Albert Johnson, of Washington, chairman of the committee, said today. The committee, he added, will begin Monday to prepare recommendations for the restrictions of immigration and for changes in the naturalization bill now on the house calendar.

A number of amendments, according to Chairman Johnson, will be made to the naturalization bill so as to place greater restrictions on citizenship.

HOTELS REDUCE FOOD PRICES

NEW YORK.—Reduction of ten percent in food prices announced by hotels.

Watches Sons Battle On Rival Football Teams

When Yale and Princeton met today in their annual gridiron game at Princeton one lady in the stand found herself called upon to root for both teams. Why? Well, Mike Callahan, one of her three sons, is captain of a Yale team, and Tim, another son, is the leader of Yale's eleven.

Wrangel's Forces In Tight Place; Allied Fleet To Aid Him

PARIS, Nov. 13.—The Russian Soviet forces have won control of the isthmus of Perekop, leading to the Crimean peninsula, and the situation of General Baron Wrangel, the anti-Bolshevik commander in the Crimea is extremely bad, according to dispatches received today by the French foreign office.

The allied fleet, it is stated, is preparing to aid in the evacuation of certain districts in the Crimea.

The Bolsheviks have advanced beyond Perekop, the advisers show, and have captured twelve million cartridges, 18 cannon, one tank, three armored trains, 10,000 shells and much transportation material.

Prescription Needed To Get Coal

BUFFALO, N. Y., November 13.—A doctor's certificate of necessity was required to obtain a ton of coal here today and with the thermometer around 20 degrees above zero, thousands of families with empty coal bins clamoring for fuel.

A marked shortage in the supply of natural gas intensified the demand.

Temporary relief was expected within 24 hours. The chamber of commerce, anticipating the situation, has secured consignments from the anthracite mines, totaling 2,700 tons and 200 tons were obtained from other sources. Distribution of this supply in ton lots through regular dealers, will begin tomorrow.

The closing of navigation on the Great Lakes next week is expected to divert a large amount of anthracite coal to Buffalo and bring permanent relief.

Wilson Continues To Improve In Health; Election Has No Effects; Confident Of His Cause

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1920, by Times Publishing Co.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—President Wilson continues to improve in health. The statement of Ambassador Davis on his arrival in London that the President was a much sicker man than the public knew is not considered here to be in conflict with the optimistic assurance given by Secretary Coffey after seeing the President a week ago. Mr. Davis is believed to have been referring to an earlier period in Mr. Wilson's illness and not to recent weeks.

Everybody about the White House seems to have become more hopeful now about the President's ultimate recovery. His improvement has been no more than was expected and so much better than is ordinarily true of cases of the kind that Mr. Wilson's extraordinary vitality is now predicted to win the long struggle for life which he has been waging for more than a year.

Instead of proving a shock to him, the election passed by without outward effect upon Mr. Wilson's health. Those who know the president best say this is due to a sublime confidence in the righteousness of the cause he fought for and that his habit of mind is not to think of the incidents of two or three years but of the political movements and tides of an era or epoch. The President is represented as confident that before many years he will have been vindicated.

On the other hand, passing of responsibility from his hands has had the effect of relieving his mind of the many worries and burdens which for eight years have been laid upon him. As the month of March approaches his friends expect that he will get stronger and feel better. There is some hope that he may be well enough to surprise everybody next month by appearing in Congress for his farewell address.

It would make a dramatic picture—the President of the United States being wheeled on an invalid's chair through the corridors of the capital which in earlier days he walked on.

EMIGRANTS IN PANIC WHEN SHIPS COLLIDE

NEW YORK, November 13.—Close to the Statue of Liberty several hundred emigrants aboard the Spanish royal mail steamship Montserrat were thrown into a panic today when their vessel and the steamer San Marcos from Galveston met in collision while they were moving in from quarantine in bright sun light.

Captain Munera, of the Montserrat, headed his vessel for the Brooklyn shore and beached her before she sank. The San Marcos, a Clyde Mallory freighter, carrying no passengers, was able to make her pier with her bow smashed in but officials of the line said she would have to be dry docked.

One man leaped from the Montserrat. He fell on the deck of a tug boat which dashed to the assistance of the two vessels and later was taken to the Ellis Island Hospital.

The San Marcos reported no one injured aboard her.

COLD SNAP FINDS NEW YORKERS SHY OF COAL

NEW YORK, November 13.—The first real cold snap of winter sent shivers through thousands of New York apartment dwellers today who were suffering because of the lack of heat due to the acute coal shortage.

Unable to get promises of fuel and with colder weather in sight, they flocked to dealers in oil, gas and electric heaters and soon those heating appliances were at a premium.

Conditions due to the coal shortage were described as "woful" and dangerous to the public health by Commissioner of Health Copeland, who has sent an appeal to the Interstate Commerce commission to issue priority orders for shipments of domestic sizes to this city for "at least one week."

Plans to meet the emergency situation are reported under way by President John P. Deringham, of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Company, chairman of the committee on producers, who said large rail shipments of anthracite and ten cargoes of coal of domestic sizes are being rushed here for distribution.

Reserve coal supplies of public utilities also were reported to be rapidly diminishing.

RED CROSS SUNDAY TOMORROW

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 13.—The uncompleted work of the American Red Cross in Europe will be emphasized in sermons that will be delivered in churches throughout the country tomorrow, which has been designated as Red Cross Sunday, Dr. Livingston Farrand, chairman of the central committee of the Red Cross, said today. Thousands of ministers are expected to discuss the organization's relief work and to urge the public to continue to support it.

Stress in sermons tomorrow, it is expected, also will be laid on the domestic program of the Red Cross and the work that is being done by the Junior Red Cross in the schools of this country and among European children.

Prohibition Shows Some Complaints On Increase And Others On Decline

CHICAGO, November 13.—Statistics showing that complaints of cruelty to wives and children was increased 238 percent since prohibition arrived, and more rapidly in the last six months than during the first half of the year, were given in the annual report of Albert E. Webster, superintendent of the Juvenile Protective Association, made public today.

"Men who formerly drank heavily," the report reads, "have undergone a percent more than during the war period."

On the other hand, it was shown that complaints of adult contribution to child delinquency on account of liquor have decreased 71 percent since the eighteenth amendment went into effect. Proscriptions for non-support have decreased 20 percent. Disorderly conduct charges have been cut in half and insanity complaints reduced 60 percent.

"HER OWN CAREER"

A NEW GIRL SERIAL BY PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

YOUNG, vivacious, ambitious, a bit pretty and quite flirtatious was Gwendolyn when she decided to leave her home and carve "Her Own Career." Hence this new story by Phyllis Phillips, woven about Gwendolyn, is replete with interesting situations. "Her Own Career" deals with the experiences—the trials and temptations—of the girl in her quest for success and "life."

Born and reared in staid old New England, she becomes tired of the monotony of her existence and sets out alone for New York, joining the art circles there. Later she goes abroad. The story carries the reader with her through the various phases, ambition, philandering and heart pangs, and on to the final triumph of true love. The first installment will appear Monday on the social page of The Portsmouth Daily Times.

Poles Start Offensive On Lithuania

COPENHAGEN, November 13.—A strong offensive by Polish troops was begun Wednesday on the northeast Lithuanian front, according to a Korean dispatch to the Berlinische Tidende today. After violent fighting the towns of Sleszy and Turmow were occupied by the attacking forces, which are now fighting outside Novo Alexandrovsk, the reports state.

Dissatisfaction is reported in the army of General Zelazowski, the insurgent Polish commander (whose troops presumably are the ones referred to in the Korean message).

COLD WAVE HITS TOLEDO

TOLEDO, O., November 13.—The coldest weather of the season here last night and today fringed the Maumee river with ice, and drove the public into their shelters. The temperature was 19 below in the early morning, sent to London for the signature of King Alfonso.

NAMED PRIMATE OF SPAIN

MADRID, November 13.—Cardinal Enrique De Alencar y Santos, archbishop of Seville, has been chosen primate of Spain to succeed the late Cardinal Guisado, says the newspaper Abe. It is said the decree has been sent to London for the signature of King Alfonso.

Make Your Housework Easier

Stop dreading dishes. The United States Government says it is a waste of time. It shows the housewife how to arrange a dinner and dishwasher in better condition.

It shows her how to make a fireless cooker if she can't buy one. Its use will cut the fuel bill in two and save much labor.

Did you ever think of putting a hinge on one end of the ironing board and attaching it to the wall, and a collapsible leg on the other? Thus it folds out of the way and is always ready for use.

These are but a few of the hints on household efficiency Uncle Sam gives in a bulletin distributed free through our Washington Information Bureau. Every housewife should have it and every husband should help her put its suggestions into effect.

U. S. AND JAPAN AGREE IN PRINCIPLE ON EXCLUSION OF JAP LABORERS IN AMERICA

TOKIO, November 13.—(By the Associated Press).—Newspapers of this city report the Japanese and American governments have reached an agreement in principle relative to the exclusion of Japanese laborers from the United States. It is asserted, however, that there is a disagreement regarding the methods to be employed.

America is understood to desire provisions for exclusion embodied in a treaty, but Japan, it is said, regards this procedure humiliating and as forming a precedent she might be forced to follow in treaties negotiated in future. Japan is declared to consider that measures prohibiting her subjects from emigrating can be taken only on her own initiative.

In other respects, the negotiations are progressing, it is reported, and an agreement has been settled, an agreement may be expected.

In announcing the price cut the Goodrich Company said it was to aid in bringing general business conditions back to normal. Other tire companies including the Goodyear and Republic firms have announced price reductions in the past week.

Jugo-Slavia And Italy Sign Pact

SANTA MARGHERITA, Italy, Nov. 13.—The treaty between Italy and Jugo-Slavia was signed yesterday evening at Rapallo.

The formal statement "on the subject of the disposal of Fiume" made by Secretary General Corradini, of Italy, follows:

"With the exception of Zara and Gorizia, which go to Italy, Jugo-Slavia (includes) Dalmatian including Sebenico. The new frontier assigns Idria, Adelfa and San Pietro to Italy and runs thence through Monte Nevoso to the Adriatic, which it touches between Volosce and Cassina—the latter being given to Fiume. The Italian line of frontier is to be contiguous with the Italian state of Fiume. The railway from Fiume to San Pietro is assigned to Italy. The country south between Jugo-Slavia and Fiume, on a basis respecting the higher altitudes go to Jugo-Slavia and the lower altitudes to Fiume. Jugo-Slavia also will get Longonza and the adjacent valleys.

A commercial treaty also is being negotiated at Rapallo.

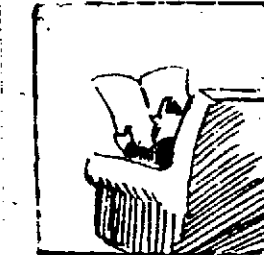

BANDITS STEAL PAY ROLL
CLEVELAND, O., November 13.—Two armed bandits secured $2,000 pay roll money of the Republic Brass Company this morning when they held up and robbed Edward Blivise and Julius Polak, manager and secretary of the company, as they were entering the offices of the plant with the money. The bandits escaped.

THE TIMES' WEATHER MAN

Folks 'll have to lag in a two days' store of cigars, candies and other Sunday necessities. With the lid changed down and nothing obtainable, everybody 'll want just twice as much and find a lot more things they didn't know they needed. Well, here's your Sunday supply of weather:

OHIO.—Fair tonight and Sunday. Rising temperature Sunday.

KENTUCKY.—Fair tonight. Cloudy Sunday. Slightly rising temperature.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 13.—Weather predictions for the week beginning Monday, are:

Ohio and Tennessee.—Unsettled, rain and reaction to higher temperatures, first half of week, generally fair and normal temperature latter half.

Region of Great Lakes.—Unsettled, cold and over-cast.

The extremes in local temperature today were: High, 39; low, 16.

EXPENSE ACCOUNTS FILED

The Adams county Republican Executive Committee expended $5,870.72 in the recent campaign, according to a statement filed with the Board of Elections Friday by Frank E. Klefer, treasurer, who says the total receipts were $3,033.65 leaving a balance of $2,837.07 in the treasury.

STOP THE TORTURE

If you would get rid of your Rheumatic pains and aches; if you would ease your stiff and swollen joints or shake off your lameness, try Munyon's Rheumatic Remedy. It makes no claim to bring relief and does so quickly as to astonish those who try it. Try it and bid good-bye to mankind's worst enemy. Munyon's Rheumatic Remedy is especially helpful in chronic inflammation, lumbago, and sciatica, a few doses often being sufficient to drive out the pain. It contains no dangerous or harmful coloring drugs, but acts as a tonic and appetizer.

Every Year

at the holiday season we are "snowed under" by the volume of work we are called on to do for our patrons.

We have worked night after night with but a few hours rest after the nerve racking day in order to avoid disappointing a single customer.

This same condition has occurred each year. This year promises to be no exception as extra help cannot be had at any price.

Won't you come in now when we can give you every attention and guarantee that whatever we do for you will be satisfactory and you won't exhaust.

Approximately $2,000 of the fund was contributed by the candidates on the county and district tickets and the remainder was raised by individual subscriptions from local followers of the party, the contributions ranging from $5 up to $200.

The principal item of expense, according to the statement, was for printing the precincts, $1,100 being spent for this work of which $500 went for putting the men voters and $500 for putting the women voters. Other items making up the total expenditures were: postage, $205.00; stationary, $158.25; rent, $205.00; janitor, $47.00; printing and advertising, $1,279.00; copying poll books, $224.50; salaries, stenographers and clerks, $2,000.00; incidentals, $1,315.77; distribution and carrying, service and expenses, $275.00.

There is what it cost the various candidates on the Republican ticket to be elected, according to their expense accounts filed with the Election Board Friday, when the time limit for filing the accounts expired under the Corrupt Practices Act. The figures include the amounts contributed to the Executive Committee, Carl H. Hays, recorder, or $172.94; Arthur B. Harwood, surveyor, or $23.17; E. E. Hickey, sheriff, or $23.17; George W. Sheppard, prosecuting attorney, or $155.00; Edward Cunningham, clerk of courts, or $174.00; J. D. Hendrickson, coroner, or $10.00; Henry R. Reed, treasurer, or $242.08; George E. Matthews, representative, or $100.00; W. O. Shively, commissioner, or $418.08; Jacob Kuhn, commissioner, or $290.08; J. H. Apple, commissioner, or $118.88; S. H. Gilliland, probate judge, or $200.00.

BILIOUS CHILDREN

Black-Draught, Long in Successful Use, Praised by an Arkansas Mother, "Soon Does Its Work."

Marmaduke, Ark.—Speaking of Theodor's Black-Draught, which from long use in her household has become regarded as "the family medicine," Mrs. Mary F. Hill, of Route 1, this place, says:

"When the children get bilious, I give them a couple of good doses, and when we have sour stomach, headache, or any other of stomach trouble, we use Black-Draught. It is an easy laxative, and soon does the work. I certainly think it is one of the best remedies made."

Black-Draught acts on the faded liver, gently, but positively, and helps it in its important function of throwing out waste materials and poisons from the system.

In thousands of households Black-Draught is kept handy for immediate use in time of need. Prompt treatment often is half the battle, and will often prevent slight ills from developing into serious troubles.

Its well-earned merit, during more than 30 years of successful use, should convince you of the helpful effects obtainable by taking Black-Draught for liver and stomach disorders. Get a package today, and keep it in your house. See that the package bears the words, "Theodor's Black-Draught." NO. 141

CHRONIC CATARRH

Follows Repeated Colds When Blood is Impure.

Your body suffering from a cold does not properly attend to digestion and elimination. As a result your blood becomes impure. It inflames the mucous membrane and brings about that condition in which chronic catarrh occurs and on which it depends.

Purify your blood, make it clean by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and if your bowels are not healthfully active, take Hood's Pills. These medicines have relieved and prevented thousands of cases of chronic catarrh. Economy is one of the strong points of Hood's Sarsaparilla—100 doses in a bottle. Why not get it today?

DON CLARK INJURED

Word came from Detroit today that Don Clark, who was for many years located here was seriously injured yesterday while at work in one of Henry Ford's plants in that city.

A meeting of the Board of education was held Saturday morning at the office of the clerk, William Haddock. The janitor's payroll was allowed and contracting painter, Edward Drenner, was allowed an estimate on his painting of Garfield school. The payroll and estimate amounted to $1193.66.

Body Found In River

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., November 13.—Standing at the brink of the Ohio whither she had followed his footsteps, Miss Elvise Dixon yesterday morning looked 100 yards down stream and her brother-in-law, Joseph Hagin, was the embodiment of an eighteen-hour search which was begun when it was discovered that Mr. Dixon had not arrived at the office of Dr. J. H. Robinson in the First National Bank building, his announced destination when he left his home in the early afternoon.

Belief that Mr. Dixon's body might be in the Ohio was occasioned by the finding of his coat and hat on the bank of the river early yesterday morning. With the coat was a note addressed to Mrs. Hartie Dixon, his wife, in which he said he was going to swim the Ohio river.

DRUG STORES TO CLOSE

SUNDAY BIG DAY AT FIRST CHRISTIAN

Tomorrow is the second day of the big race between the men and women and the boys and girls of the First Christian Bible school in their contest which will run the four Sundays in November. Last Sunday the women and girls showed the men and boys good and deep and are confidently expecting to repeat the dose tomorrow. The men have been stirring about this week, and hope to have more present than the women and girls. It is showing true results and will help to pull the big school up to the full aim of four thousand for the month.

BUREAU DRIVE ON LAST LAP

With reports from practically all the big subscribers including all but one of the big-fifteen yet to be heard from, officials of the Bureau of Census today expect to surpass the total of $30,000 when all the reports are received.

The total at this time is about $16,000, less than half the quota but the reports from the big-fifteen and other individuals is expected to swell the total past the $30,000 mark, the amount estimated as needed to carry on the work of the bureau the ensuing year.

Workers are canvassing the factories today in an endeavor to swell the total to the needed amount. They are confident of good results as the Bureau workers have put in some faithful and hard ticks the past week.

"The drive must go over the top," is the slogan of the workers.

Finger Is Amputated

J. E. Gordon of 207 Seventeenth street, who has been running a saw mill at June, Va., underwent an operation in Hempstead hospital Friday afternoon for the amputation of his left index finger.

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practical physician for the "calomel" era, and his enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid liver.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not irritate, but give a healing, soothing, vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to function as they never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—ach headache—torpid liver—constipation—you'll find quick, sure relief in the use of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep bright. Try them 15c and 50c.

The speed and accuracy with which the men worked showed that they were far from novices at the game and the fact that it took but three minutes to rifle the bank showed that they had planned the plan in detail and that they knew just how and when to act. Onlookers at the time of the robbery said that less than three minutes elapsed from the alarm started ringing until the bandits were away in a cloud of dust down the road, firing shots to the left and right and triumphantly waving their hands.

Police in surrounding towns were immediately notified of the robbery and told to keep a vigilant lookout for the daylight thieves. Upon leaving the bank, the machine sped towards Greenville and the last report that they were headed for Columbus on the Jackson pike. Greenville police authorities asserted Saturday that they think certain men of that city may be implicated in the robbery.

PRINCETON AND YALE CLASH TODAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The annual clash between Yale and Princeton in baseball circles today following yesterday's agreement between the opposing factions in the reorganization of the game.

The sixteen club owners of the two major leagues were in accord on every issue, which today left the same eight clubs in the National and same eight in the American league. Thwarted war was averted.

Judge Kenneth M. Landis of the federal court, Chicago, accepted the chairmanship of baseball and will act as a committee of one as a final court of appeal in all matters of dispute between the two major leagues and any minor league which may join the majors in reorganizing the game.

Judge Landis will remain on the bench. His salary there is $7,500 a year. He stipulated that this sum should be subtracted from the $20,000 a year offered by the baseball men.

The Princeton-Yale classic drew Lawrence, Massachusetts, more than 50,000 spectators to the Palmer Memorial Stadium.

The thrills of a gridiron rivalry that began 15 years ago, the spectacle terminated in a go down in college life in this game.

One hundred thousand eyes had of three football capitals this year—greater interest than ever before for the program handshake and toss of the coin by the captains—a strapping ton side.

Dove Of Peace Flutters Over The Baseball War

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—Peace reigned in baseball circles today following yesterday's agreement between the opposing factions in the reorganization of the game.

The sixteen club owners of the two major leagues were in accord on every issue, which today left the same eight clubs in the National and same eight in the American league. Thwarted war was averted.

Judge Kenneth M. Landis of the federal court, Chicago, accepted the chairmanship of baseball and will act as a committee of one as a final court of appeal in all matters of dispute between the two major leagues and any minor league which may join the majors in reorganizing the game.

The minor leagues are invited and expected to join the majors under the Landis banner, but whether they do so or not the matter is settled as to the major leagues.

Chicago will be headquarters for the baseball commission and offices will be opened immediately.

Athletics Defeated

Last night at the Willamette Hall the Athletics beat the Athletics in a fast and exciting game of basketball. The score at the end of the first half was 15-10 and at the end of the second it was 25-15. The Athletics tied it up at the end of the third quarter. The Athletics played overtime to settle the tie. The Athletics who had been shooting foul shots like a machine all evening, had a chance to win fame in these few extra minutes, but he missed the first shot of the overtime. A few moments later, the Athletics shot one over the basket. The Athletics were the only team to reach the five hundred column by getting 518, his team mates seemed to be of their stride.

Ideal Weather For Game

Ever Catch a Microperma? The black bass are of two species—the small-mouth black bass and the large-mouth black bass, writes Dr. M. W. Shufeldt in the American Forestry Magazine. Both belong to the genus Microperma, and are readily distinguished through the fact that in the last named form the angle of the gape of the mouth is back of the imaginary vertical line from the center of the pupil of the eye upon either side. So many are these fish that they are known as the "crabs of the North," and anglers prefer to fish for them above all other kinds.

Harry Pilger, famous dancer, and his new partner, Miss Dheriysa. Harry Pilger, famous for his dancing, and perhaps more famed as the dancing partner of the late Gaby Deslys, is appearing now on the Parisian stage at the Casino de Paris with Miss Dheriysa, in the Revue, "Paris qui jazz," which is very much like our popular girl and music reviews. Pilger is known by many of the American soldiers and nurses who were in France, for both he and Gaby entertained them often by dancing and by inviting them to luncheons and dinners at Gaby's villa, which she later turned into a hospital.

Minnesota At Iowa

IOWA CITY, Ia., Nov. 13.—Seeking revenge for two defeats in as many years at the hands of Iowa, the University of Minnesota football team clashed with the Hawkeyes here today. The Iowa were the favorites but the Gophers promised several surprises. Today was home coming day at Iowa.

Chicago To Tackle Michigan

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 13.—The University of Chicago football team made its first appearance on Ferry Field since 1904 today. Both Chicago and Michigan were considerably weakened through injuries. The Maroons led without the services of "Pat" Hendrich and Michigan being short Jack Dunne. A number of players who entered the contest were also handicapped by slight injuries.

IMPORTANT CONFERENCE TILTS TODAY

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—Illinois today faces Wisconsin at Madison in the most important contest of the day's conference games. With Wisconsin's title chances at stake, the Illinois hope for victory so that they may meet Ohio State next Saturday with the state title clean. Coaches of both teams stated today that their squads were in excellent physical condition.

Chicago battles Michigan at Ann Arbor for the first time since 1904. Purdue plays Northwestern at Evansville and Minnesota meets Iowa at Iowa City in other conference games.

Indiana goes out of the conference to play Notre Dame.

Ohio State and Illinois are each undefeated, with four victories while Wisconsin has lost to Ohio State. A victory today for Wisconsin and Indianapolis will divide the championship again over Chicago a week later.

Minnesota is at Iowa City.

Selby's Bowling League

In the Selby Bowling League Friday evening, the Rounders did not have any trouble in taking three games from the Directors. All three totals for the Rounders' games were over the 600 mark, while the Directors could not reach this mark. G. D. Selby took a better game than usual, but the following bowler, Mr. Hinch, was way below his average, totalling only 220. The Champs also took three easy games from the Turners who have been getting the League on fire by their high scores. Reinhardt was high man with a score of 540. The scores:

This Is Not First Baseball War

The baseball squabble that is now under way is not the first trouble that has threatened to disrupt major league baseball by any means.

Way back in 1894 baseball was going nicely and then a baseball war erupted the profits of the two preceding years.

1900—The "Players' league," one season of mad rivalry, with schedules deliberately fixed to conflict.

1902—Grand row between National league and American Association.

Will Be Proverbial "Dog Fight"

Huntington fans are planning on going to Urbana November 20, to see the Workman brothers in action against Illinois when the Illinois and Ohio State meet for the Western Conference title. These two teams throw together by the rest of football dice, strangely shaken, have always been rivals and a proverbial "dog fight" is expected. The Ohio State eleven is drilling daily for the encounter.

Big Games In The South

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 12.—Football games in the South today include clashes between Tulane and Mississippi A. and M. at New Orleans, Georgia Tech and Georgetown here, Vanderbilt and Virginia at Nashville, Auburn and Washington and Lee at Birmingham and Georgia and Florida at Athens, Ga.

Neither Tulane nor Mississippi has lost to a Dixie eleven this season and both are priced for a hard battle. Since under the 21 to 6 defeat received at the hands of the Navy last Saturday the Georgia team is regarded as the south determined to improve which was last year's game between the two schools 27 to 0.

THE BASE BALL WAR

DISSENSION has broken out in the ranks of the two major base ball leagues and the country is now being treated to a wrangle that may bring "the great American sport" into common dispute.

The situation but illustrates how crowds of men are oft thrown in a panic by some sudden development and flutter in circles like a flock of wild geese, losing its leader. For the turmoil is nothing but the outcome of the exposure of corruption in the world's series games of 1919. That was serious, to be true, but, after all it was more startling in its unexpectedness, rather than in the fact that eight men sold their private honor and besmirched public confidence.

Their baseness did not reveal anything basically wrong in the sport, it more was a startling exhibition of individual corruption. The public was simply capable of seeing the distinction, and in ordinary course the exposure would have its days and then passed out of any present consciousness. But it was not left to be forgotten. Excited persons raised a great hue and cry about the game being shaken off its base of popular confidence and the only way to move it back was to take the management out of the hands of those who owned and operated it, whose integrity and fair conduct is not questioned, and give it to the keeping of those who have no financial interest therein.

Over this issue, preposterously raised, the clubs have gone to war, though after unseasonable contention common sense seems coming to its way and the prospects for peace are excellent.

THE PRIVATE SOLDIER

THE DEED of Great Britain to inter in Westminster Abbey the body of an unidentified private soldier as a tribute to those who served in the ranks is a just recognition of that phase of army service to which not only England but every other nation as well owes its existence. It is necessary to have leaders. An army without commanders is a mob. Its movements must be co-ordinated in order to be effective.

But after the generals have disposed their troops and laid their plans of action it is the private soldier who does the work. It is the man who takes orders, not he who gives them, who is where the fight is hottest. Westminster Abbey is the place of sepulture of England's most illustrious dead. In interring there the body of an unknown private the empire acknowledges its debt to the men whom this unidentified soldier represents. The dead man will not repose any more peacefully than had he lain where he fell, and it matters not to those whose names are inscribed on their tombstones surrounding him that they in death are honored above others, but the living may be reminded that the humble and unknown who perform their duty serve humankind as well as those whose names may be written on the scroll of fame.

In this honor done to a private soldier England, a land where classes and distinctions are officially recognized, sets an example that might be imitated by others ostentatiously more democratic. When the most famous men Britain has produced in all her long history must share their burial place with the body of a man whose name even is unknown and whose part in life is equally a mystery, it would seem that class distinctions in the burial of soldiers in this land might be disregarded. The man who gives the best that is in him does as much as another who does more yet is doing only according to his ability. Death knows no distinctions. Men only would seek to impress recognition of a difference.

Portsmouth has a big heart. It is giving generously to the support of the bureau of public service, this in the face of slowing-up business and numerous other insistent calls for benevolence.

The Columbus State Journal speaks highly of ex-Senator Theodore E. Burton, who will return to congress as a member of the lower house. The praise is deserved, but the query is: How many other Burtons will be found in congress?

Patterson Has Big Majority

G. K. Patterson, Republican, Picketon, Mass., received 11,300 votes in 1919, their vote being 11,300 to 7,000. The vote in the other counties was: Adams, Patterson 4,899; Callahan 4,150; Jackson, Patterson 5,780; Callahan 4,000; Pike, Patterson 3,602; Callahan 2,724.

A Woman Government Official

(By Frederic J. Haskins)

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 12.—While women politicians proclaim the need of women in the cabinet and in congress, Mrs. Annette Adams is showing what a certain type of woman may be expected to do in high office.

As assistant attorney general, appointed last May, she has to hand down legal opinions on various subjects to the government departments. Questions from the people on income tax, for example, are answered by the Income Tax Bureau. But if the tax experts get stuck on a point of their own law, or if some new angle or claim is brought up, the bureau refers the problem to Mrs. Adams, and she gives her opinion, which stands as that of the Department of Justice.

Likewise, the handles disputed points of the Volstead Act, through the Supreme Court and congress have made the terms of prohibition so plain that there are few doubtful phrases. To Mrs. Adams are also entrusted the legal matters relating to the federal prisons, the war risk insurance, pensions, the Adamson eight hour law, and other laws such as the Pure Food and Drugs Act and the Safety Appliance Act.

A Place For Brains.
 To render intelligent opinions on these weighty matters demands definite legal experience and ability. Having to deal with the income tax, labyrinthical alone would stagger the average human being. Yet Mrs. Adams undertakes to look cheerful and assures you that the income tax law is in itself not unreasonably complicated, though she admits that the exemptions and surtax provisions are a bit confusing.

She recalls how, before she came from California to be a government lawyer, she herself had a little difficulty with her own tax blank. Its mysteries had been carefully unraveled, except the baffling provision as to which thirty bonds were exempt from taxation. She took the liberty to ask an income tax expert and he admitted that he had been stumped by the same thing, and that he had finally paid tax on all of them to get it off his mind.

Now, Mrs. Adams will not have to bother over the possibility of her interpretation of the tax law being wrong, for if a dispute arises the matter will be referred to her anyway.

Mrs. Adams does not talk much about herself, either her past or what she intends to do. She has introduced no innovations into her bureau of the Department of Justice, and she does not expect to. As a woman in a high government office she is a pioneer, and to use her own expression, she is making heads slowly.

She is also a pioneer as a woman lawyer who has achieved a national reputation. As a girl she graduated from the State Normal School in California and from the University of California, and taught school while she worked for her degrees. When she was admitted to practice in the California courts and in the federal courts she gave up teaching and, with a partner, went into business for herself. She never specialized in divorces or women's cases, though women who came to her often stated their preference for a woman counsel in business matters.

Her chance came one day when she was pleading a case against the state prosecution. The district attorney had practically assured the accused man of a long sentence, but when Mrs. Adams arose and stated her client's defense in a simple, direct plea, the judge gave the prisoner only six months. The defeated district attorney sought out the counsel for the defense and asked her directly if she would like to be one of his assistants.

First Woman District Attorney.
 She became the first woman assistant district attorney—a position requiring a good deal of tact, probably for the men were not used to a woman lawyer in their midst. Where a man would occasionally take a chance, Mrs. Adams proved over details and acquired a reputation for making sure. The district attorney relied on her so extensively to draw up the papers for pleadings that when he became ill, she had to take his place, and eventually she became the district attorney of northern California, the first woman to hold the office in any state.

In her new position at Washington she has more time to give careful attention to cases. She thinks that this can be overdone, however, and that women crowd little inclined to work too much with details, so that, by close attention to fine points there is danger of overlooking the main issues. In other words, of losing the perspective. A man, has less patience with details.

Mrs. Adams says this with reluctance. She dislikes to make any statement of women versus men to show that the woman inferior or lawyer is less logical or more customary than the masculine prototype, because she regards the individual element which regards each person different from the rest as too uncertain a factor for such crude classifications to be worth making. A jury of women, she thinks, is not more likely to be swayed by emotions than a jury of men of a similar degree of mentality.

Mrs. Adams looks at life from an impartial, matter-of-fact angle—the judicial outlook. With a little smile she says that she has not the "newspaper sense," that she never could read off chilly little sentiments about her life. "I have no hobbies," she added, "though I do like to cook and take care of my apartment."

There you have one of the first women executives in the federal government—a widow of pleasant middle age (the forties) who is a hard worker and a lawyer of recognized ability. This first feminine federal attorney believes in keeping the home fires burning, but she does it by going out into the world and hustling for the fuel.

WHO'S WHO In The Days News

JOHN ESCH
 Congressman John Esch is slated for either a cabinet position or a place on the interstate commerce commission under the Harding administration, according to political gossip at the national capital.

Esch is chairman of the house interstate and foreign commerce committee. His appointment is to be a reward for his part in the framing of the Esch-Cummins transportation act, according to gossip. Secretary of commerce would be the logical place for him in the cabinet. It is pointed out.

Esch was defeated in the Wisconsin primary election. The Planch Man League, opposed by Esch, and the Non-Partisan League, caused his downfall.

When he leaves congress in March he will have served in the house twenty-two years. He was born in Norwalk, Wisconsin, March 20, 1851. He claimed A. B. degree at the University of Wisconsin and was admitted to the bar in 1887. He served as captain in the Wisconsin national guard and later was judge advocate general with the rank of colonel. He was elected to congress for the first time in 1887.

 Q. What is the loss of gasoline by evaporation when stored in an underground tank?
 A. The Bureau of Mines says that loss by evaporation when gasoline is properly stored in an underground tank is very small. Most dealers figure that one percent would cover all losses.

DOE KOKO'S KOLUM

The Reporter
 If there's hell to pay in China, Or an earthquake in Peru, Or an angry mob, named Dinah, Joins the family on the street, You may lay it to my lucky. With a mind all free from care, That a dapper chap, and plucky— A reporter will be there.

So Sing a Song of Suicide
 Let them stand and wonder, too, It will all be in the paper In the morning, if it's true.

If a Lady with a Pistol
 Shoots her lover in the knee, Or a merchant in old Bristol In a tub sets out to sea; You may lay your shabby, buddy, Be the weather foul or fair, Though the way be rough and muddy, A reporter will be there.

Some What Premature
 All employees of restaurants or hotels must file their death certificates with Mr. Herzberger, the Sanitary Inspector, before June 30. After that date, prosecutions will be instituted.—Johnston (12.) leader.

The Old Fashioned Weather Man
 During a slight drizzle Joe was wishing for rain, when Willie said, "My grandpa can make it rain whenever he wants to. He just gets rheumatism in his joints and it rains right afterwards."

No Evidence Necessary
 The monthly seizures were in progress at the melting camp of Howling Wolf, and the courthouse was crowded with a motley throng, who took a design, if somewhat noisy interest in all the proceedings.

The Upper got worse and worse, and at last the Judge could bear it no longer. An imposing figure, he arose to his feet and belted out:

"Gentlemen, and also prisoners, I must insist on order in the courtroom. Here I've tried four cases already and haven't been able to hear a single word of the evidence."

Mixing Her Studies
 At a school examination the examiner asked one child:

"What are the products of the Indian Empire?"

The unhappy infant began nervously to read off the list she had got by heart:

"Rice, sir, India produces rice, and pepper and rice and citron and oil and chutney, and—and—and—"

"Yes, yes," said the examiner, impatiently. "What comes after all that?"

Another infant's hand was raised. "Well, you tell her what comes after that."

"Please, sir, India-gestation."

Unwarranted Gaiety
 It was in January, 1919, when everybody in France was getting disgusted with all wars in general and their police one in particular. A colored soldier, engaged in the unheroic task of polishing the road, was leaning on his implement of war—a shovel—reflecting on all the disadvantages of being alive, when a happy doughty wearing three service chevrons passed, singing at the top of his lungs.

The darky gazed incredulously at the soldier and his service chevrons and then returned his attention to the landscape.

"Mah Lawd," he muttered, "At nuff dere been over heah eighteen months and he still know some tune besides 'Hark, from de Tomb.'"

An Improvement
 "Has prohibition helped your husband any?"

"I can't say that it has. But I will tell you the result of it."

"What's that?"

"Well, you see, it has helped me to get a divorce."

"How do you know she's got it?"

"Little Boy—'Because she said so.'"

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 12, 1920.—There is a strange and distinct class of society in New York, born of an overwhelming desire to ape the rich. They prohibit meal tickets for the army of cheap poets, beam sculptors and devotees of every brand of lunacy in exchange for tawdry adulation.

A shallow duck model marries a paragon. She reads of Mrs. De Puy's ter-Puy's entertaining a Tugore to her Fifth Avenue mansion. And so she goes off for a party. They are not hard to find. Every Greenwich Village coffee-house bulges with them.

You can tell them by their long for the professional art rackets, the fair and soft looks. In his circle begins to realize that his wife has arrived. His wife, "The Birth of Pashen," has been used as a "first" at the tail end of a story in a fifty-cent magazine. He is invited to dine at the home of the newly-rich.

The spouse of his friends, fastidiously but not really his wife has done it. The Russian love advocate, Minna, him and perhaps gone away with the who writes free verse. Free because say this for him, since he's taken to drinking perfumes and toilet waters, his breath smells a whole lot sweeter than it used to.

Explanation A Plenty
 A Chicago author sent a manuscript to a local editor, who returned it with this note: "The manuscript is returned to you with polite note of refusal."

"We have read the manuscript with infinite delight. By the sacred oaths of our ancestors we swear that we have never before received in so thrilling a masterpiece. If we printed it, we should have been obliged to take it as a model, as a standard of quality and achievement, and henceforth never print anything inferior to it."

"As it would be impossible to find its equal in 10,000 years, and we have to go to press with our poor, inadequate paper every day, we are compelled, through shaken with sorrow and blinding with tears at the necessity, to return the divine manuscript, and for doing so we ask a thousand pardons."

Marked Improvement
 Little Terri, aged four, was a very pretty and intelligent girl, but she had one fault—she was inclined to be vain. At every available opportunity she gazed at herself complacently in the looking-glass. Her fond papa noticed that the habit was growing upon her and took upon himself the duty of correcting it.

"Why do you always look in the glass?" he asked.

"I was just thinking how nice I looked," answered Terri.

"You must be so vain, child. Remember we are all as nature made us. 'Did nature make you, papa?'"

"Yes."

"Then," said Terri, looking at him and then at her reflection in the mirror, "don't you think nature is turning out better work than she used to?"

To Tobacco
 Tobacco is a filthy weed— I like it.

It satisfies no normal need— I like it.

It makes you thin it makes you lean, It takes the hair right off your head, It's the most damn stuff I've ever seen— I like it.

True Courtesy
 In one of the smaller cities in central France used by a division headquarters during the winter of 1918-1919, Alphonse the barber endeavored to learn to speak English. To this end he was diligently coached by numerous Yank dispatch-boys, sergeants, major and clerical workers, and Alphonse learned fast.

No less a personage than the commanding general of the division strode into the barber shop one day and demanded a shave in a hurry. Alphonse, who was tending a lovely enlisted customer, knew rank when he saw it and rose to the occasion.

"Sairtaince, mon general," he replied, bowing with true French politeness. "Set down, mon general, an you be less, you being street."

The general waited.

WRANGEL'S POSITION SERIOUS; ALLIED FLEETS TO AID HIM

BOLSHEVIKI HAVE SCORED HEAVILY ON ANTI-RED ARMY

PARIS, Nov. 13.—The Russian Soviet forces have won control of the isthmus of Perekop, leading to the Crimean peninsula, and the situation of General Wrangel, the anti-Bolshevik commander in the Crimea is extremely bad, according to dispatches received today by the French foreign office.

The allied fleets, it is stated are preparing to aid in the evacuation of certain districts in the Crimea.

The Bolsheviks have advanced beyond Perekop, the advices show, and have captured twelve million cartridges, 18 cannon, one tank, three armoured trains, 10,000 shells and much transportation material.

Cashier Shot; Slayer Flees

CANTON, O., November 13.—Following a revolver battle with the police, a unidentified man made his escape last night after he had shot and killed Vincent Marengo, cashier of the Canton Exchange Bank. The crime was committed while Marengo was in the bank. No money was taken and the motive for the act is unknown.

Marengo was a composer of "mug" and leader of the Italian band here and also in the Italian Thayer's Military Band.

NAMED PRIMATE OF SPAIN

MADRID, November 13.—Cardinal Enrique De Alvaraz Y Santos, archbishop of Seville, has been chosen primate of Spain to succeed the late Cardinal Guisasaola, says the newspaper. Mr. De Alvaraz has been seen to London for the signature of King Alfonso.

FURTHER REDUCTIONS IN TIRES

AKRON, O., November 13.—Further announcements of reductions in price of automobile tires was made by the factories.

OPENING STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—There were no indications at the opening of today's stock market of any change from recent, weakened conditions. Rails, oils, equipments, steels, coppers and tobaccos continued to yield to pressure with United States steel at the new low for three years of $1 3/4. Union Pacific and Canadian Pacific lost a point each with St. Paul and Erie and Rock Island marking an abrupt decline of 3 points. Many of the speculative issues added 1 to 2 points to yesterday's losses. The usual prodding covering of short contracts was lacking, there being evidently no incentive for such operations. Foreign exchange was again irregular regardless of large additional gold imports.

CHAPLINS ARE DIVORCED

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 13.—Mildred Harris Chaplin was granted a divorce from Charles Chaplin, in the superior court here late today.

Mr. Chaplin, whom Mrs. Chaplin charged with cruelty, was not in court, but was represented by attorneys.

It was stated a property settlement, involving about $200,000, had been made out of court, and an agreement reached by which Mrs. Chaplin would not use the name of Chaplin professionally.

AUTO HIT BY TRAIN

LANCASTER, O., November 13.—Leonard Hoops, 15, is dead, Albert Hoops, 20, his brother, a miner, lost a leg, and suffered a fractured skull and Mrs. Albert Hoops has a broken shoulder as a result of their automobile being struck by a Pennsylvania train five miles from New Lexington last night.

A couple of years ago J. J. Sweeney started work in a little room making outta boards. Now he has a factory in Chicago covering 18,000 square feet. A million feet of lumber is used a year for the boards. The small tables take 200,000 feet of lumber and the legs about 2,000 feet.

Jugo-Slavia And Italy Sign Pact

SANTA MARGHERITA, Italy, Nov. 13.—The treaty between Italy and Jugo-Slavia was signed yesterday evening at Rapallo.

The formal statement "on the subject of the disposal of Fiume," made by Secretary General Contarini of Italy, follows:

"With the exception of Zara and Oficera, which go to Italy, Jugo-Slavia obtains Dalmatia including Sebenico. The new frontier assigns Istria, Adria, and San Pietro to Italy and runs through Monte Negro to the Adriatic, which it touches between Volosco and Castua—the latter being given to Fiume. The Istrian line of frontier is to be contiguous with the independent state of Fiume. The railway from Fiume to San Pietro is assigned to Italy. The country south between Jugo-Slavia and Fiume, on a basis whereby the higher altitudes go to Jugo-Slavia and the lower altitudes to Fiume. Jugo-Slavia also will get Longobardi and the adjacent valley.

"A commercial treaty also is being negotiated at Rapallo."

We Have Abundant Cause For Thanksgiving, Says President In Proclamation

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 13.—President Wilson issued his Thanksgiving proclamation today, saying that "in plenty, security and peace, our virtuous and self-reliant people face the future, its duties and its opportunities. May we have vision to discern our duties; the strength both of hand and resolve, to discharge them; and the soundness of heart to realize that the truest opportunities are those of service."

"In a spirit then, of devotion and stewardship, we should give thanks for our hearts, and dedicate ourselves to the service of God's manifold and loving purposes to his children."

"Wherefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate Thursday, the twenty-fifth day of November, next, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer, and I call upon my countrymen to cease from their ordinary tasks and occupations upon that day, giving it up to the remembrance of God and His blessings, and their dutiful and grateful acknowledgments."

U. S. AND JAPAN AGREE IN PRINCIPLE ON EXCLUSION OF JAP LABORERS IN AMERICA

TOKIO, November 13.—(By the Associated Press).—Newspapers of this city report the Japanese and American governments have reached an agreement in principle relative to the exclusion of Japanese laborers from the United States. It is asserted, however, that there is a disagreement regarding the methods to be employed.

America is understood to desire provisions for exclusion embodied in a treaty, but Japan, it is said, regards this procedure humiliating and as forming a precedent she might be forced to follow in treaties negotiated in future. Japan is declared to consider that measures prohibiting her subjects from emigrating can be taken only on her own initiative.

In other respects, the negotiations are progressing, it is reported, and once this point has been settled, an agreement may be expected.

France And Britain Reach Agreement On Reparations' Row

PARIS, Nov. 13.—A definite agreement concerning the procedure to be followed with regard to reparations due by Germany was reached today between the French and British governments.

The agreement calls for a meeting at Brussels of allied technical experts with the Germans, and also a meeting of the allied plenipotentiaries in Geneva in the first half of February to discuss the total amount due and Germany's capacity for payment.

M. Leiguer, the French premier, in a note to the British ambassador, the Earl of Derby, notified the ambassador of the agreement between France and Great Britain based on the four points previously arrived at.

The four points referred to are as follows:

First, a Brussels conference of experts. Second, a meeting at Geneva between representatives of the allies and the German government.

Third, consideration by the reparations commission of the findings of the first two conferences.

Fourth, a meeting of the plenipotentiaries to consider the decisions of the reparations commission.

Ashland Bulldogs Play Smoke House Team In Millbrook

Ten Special Officers To Keep Crowd Off The Field

The local N. & W. Smoke House team will have as opponents Sunday, the Ashland Bulldogs.

The Ashland lineup are several players who have won fame on various college football grounds throughout the country and a close fight is expected when the two teams clash. Van Epworth, left end for the visitors, played four years with the Centre College team. Hankes, the Giffelburg star, will also be in the lineup for Ashland.

The invading team will lineup with Hankes and Van Epworth on the wings, J. Hunt and Markey at the tackle positions. Mocking and Dowling, guards. O. Schumack, center. Scott, quarter back. H. Lipsitz and F. Lipsitz, half back, and Hopkins, full back.

All the local players are requested to turn out for practice today at 2:30 on State street and Friday streets. Williams and McCurdy will be out to coach the team.

The Ashland-Portsmouth game Sunday in Millbrook should attract 1,000 lovers as a real game will be staged. Ten special officers will be on hand to keep the crowd back of the ropes. The management is lacking its reputation on this statement.

PRINCETON AND YALE CLASH TODAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The annual clash between Yale and Princeton will be the outstanding contest of today's Eastern football program, although several other battles of more than passing interest were scheduled. Dartmouth plays Pennsylvania at Philadelphia; Columbia meets Cornell at New Haven; Washington and Jefferson battled at a hard close conflict, with the odds favoring the Panthers.

The Princeton-Yale classic drew more than 50,000 spectators to the Palmer Memorial stadium.

The thrills of a gridiron rivalry that began 88 years ago, the spectacle of affluence, beauty and fashion from all parts of the country, the competition in songs and cheers, the unprecendented fact that the captains of the teams are brothers—the Callahans of Lawrence, Massachusetts.

Captain "Mike" of Princeton and Captain "Tim" of Yale met in their athletic blue, wishing each other the best of every thing except victory.

Mrs. Mary E. Callahan, the mother of three football captains this year, greater interest than ever before for another son is a school boy later. The pre-game handshake and toss of the coin by the captains—a strapping top side.

Dove Of Peace Flutters Over The Baseball War

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—Peace reigned in baseball circles today following yesterday's agreement between the opposing factions in the reorganization of the game. The sixteen club owners of the two major leagues were in accord on every issue, which today left the same eight clubs in the National and the same eight in the American league. Threatened war was averted.

Judge Kenesaw M. Landis of the federal court, Chicago, accepted the championship of baseball and will act as a committee of one to a final court of appeal in all matters of dispute between the two major leagues and any minor league which may join the majors in reorganizing the game.

Judge Landis will remain on the bench. His salary there is $7,500 a year. He stipulated that this sum should be subtracted from the $50,000 a year offered by the baseball men and so his salary as chairman of the national pastime will be $2,500 a year. The term for which he is chosen is seven years.

The minor leagues are invited and expected to join the majors under the Landis banner, but whether they do or not the matter is settled as to the major leagues.

Chicago will be headquarters for the baseball commission and offices will be opened immediately.

Athletics Defeated

Last night at the Wilmette Hall the Indians beat the Athletics in a fast and exciting game of basket ball. The score at the end of the first half was 19-15, and at the end of the second, it was 29-28. The Indians tied it up just as the whistle blew calling time. The teams played overtime to settle the tie. Potts, who had been shooting foul goals like a machine all evening, had a chance to win game in these few extra minutes, but he missed the first foul goal of the evening. A few seconds later, former, plus one over his head from almost the center of the floor. Long shots by Blake, Wilson and former, the playing of Potts at center and the work of Hopkins and Sheets at guard were features.

Field Goals—Potts—3, Blake 3, Hopkins 3, Evans 2, Smith 3, Fortner 1, Walker 2, Wilson 1. Foul Goals—Potts 3, Fortner 3, Wilson 1.

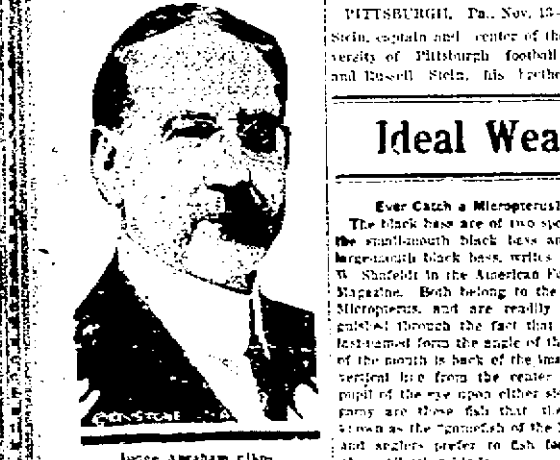

Beliefs About Paralysis.

It was said that paralytic seed went along times to the desert before coming up. If paralytic were sown on any day except that of Good Friday, it was thought that it would not come up at all. In ancient Greece the graves were strewn with paralytic. It was said in today's despatch that the paralytic seed was sown on Good Friday. The children were told that the new baby had been found to the paralytic bed.

Ideal Combination.

"May both races forgive us," said the California philosopher, "yet if the Jews of Karma grant us our will, we shall in our next incarnation be half Irish and half Hebrew. For the Irishman is happy as long as he has a dollar, and the Hebrew always has it."

Will Serve In Dispute Over Aland Islands

Judge Abraham Eliass has been appointed to serve on the commission of inquiry which is to make the preliminary investigation in the Aland islands controversy. This dispute between Finland and Sweden will in many ways be a test case that will determine the effectiveness of the council of the League of Nations as an instrument for the settlement of disputes and the prevention of wars. Finland is pleased with the appointment of this American who will shed much influence, though he will have no official vote as the U. S. is not a member of the League.

HARRY PILGER ENTERTAINS PARIS WITH NEW DANCE PARTNER, GABY'S SUCCESSOR

Harry Pilger, famous dancer, and his new partner, Miss Oberthys.

Harry Pilger, famous for his dancing, and perhaps more famed as the dancing partner of the late Gaby Deslys, is appearing now on the dancing stage at the Casino de Paris with Miss Oberthys, in the Revue, "Paris qui jazz," which is very much like our popular girl and music revues. Pilger is known by many of the American soldiers and nurses who were in France, for both he and Gaby entertained them often by dancing and by inviting them to luncheons and dinners at Gaby's villa, which she later turned into a hospital.

Ideal Weather For Game

Ever Catch a Micropteris?

The black cat is one of two species—the smooth-mouth black cats and the large-mouth black cats, writes Dr. R. W. Shufeldt in the American Forestry Magazine. Both belong to the genus Micropteris, and are readily distinguished through the fact that in the latter form the angle of the eye of the mouth is back of the imaginary vertical line from the center of the pupil of the eye upon either side. The former are those cats that they are known as the "panthers of the North," and anglers prefer to fish for them above all other kinds.

Waverly Wins

Waverly, Nov. 13.—The Waverly High School football team won very handsomely from the Litchfield High School team at the Waverly game today. The result was 20 to 0. In favor of the Waverly team.

Within the Law

"Look at that fellow in there with a loaded revolver," said an onlooker from the bench yesterday, and when the crowd started to move to throw the fellow out, he was seen to be merely a big man in a suit of some sort, and in the center of the crowd, standing there.

IMPORTANT CONFERENCE TILTS TODAY

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—Illinois today stands Wisconsin at Madison in the most important contest of the day's conference games, with Wisconsin's title chances at stake. The Illinois hope for victory so that they may meet Chicago State next Saturday with their state still clear. Coaches of both teams stated today that their squads were in excellent physical condition, one lost to four and one for Ohio and Wisconsin.

Chicago can only be given an outside chance to beat Michigan, their old rival, in the Northwestern game. Northwestern meets Iowa at Ames, Minn. in other conference games, the basketball and offensive tactics of the Northwestern-Purdue game is expected to be an equal battle. Notre Wisconsin has lost to Ohio State. A game with Indiana at victory today, for Wisconsin and Minneapolis will decide the championship for Chicago a week later, the Hoosier state would give the Bulldogs eleven at Minneapolis is at Iowa City.

MINNESOTA AT IOWA

IOWA CITY, Ia., Nov. 13.—Seeking revenge for two defeats in as many years at the hands of Iowa, the University of Minnesota football team today was home coming day at Iowa.

Chicago To Tackle Michigan

BROTHERS TO PLAY AGAINST EACH OTHER

Brother will battle brother today when Tim and Frank Callahan, captains of Yale and Princeton teams, respectively, will meet in the second of the Big Three battles. The two players, the center position and both are considered their team will win. The Callahans will watch the game from an especially constructed box and will root for both teams.

Selby's Bowling League

In the Selby-Bowling League Friday evening, the Rounders did not have any trouble in taking three games from the Directors. All three totals for the Rounders' games were over the 500 mark, while the Directors could not reach this mark. G. D. Selby bowled a better game than usual, but the following bowler, Mr. Hauck, was way below his average, tabling only 250.

The Champions also took three easy games from the Turners who have been settling the League on fire by their high scores. Reinhardt was high man with a score of 540. The scores:

This Is Not First Baseball War

The baseball squabble that is now under way is not the first trouble that has threatened to disrupt major league football by any means.

Way back in 1884 baseball was going nicely and then a baseball war erupted. The profits of the two preceding years, 1880-1881, were so large that the players' league, one of the most powerful, with schedules deliberately framed to conflict.

1892—Grand war between National League and American Association.

1901—The great struggle between the National League and the new American League. Conflicting schedules, low salaries, loads of money lost.

1914—The Federal League (small) huge salaries exacted by players; monstrous expenses.

1920—The present squabble.

Will Be Proverbial "Dog Fight"

Huntington fans are planning conference title. There two teams that are going to Urbana November 20, to see the Workman brothers in action against Illinois when the Illinois and Ohio State met for the Western Conference title.

Big Games In The South

ATLANTA, GA., Nov. 13.—Football games in the south today include games between Tulane and Mississippi A. and M. at New Orleans, Georgia Tech and Georgetown here, Vanderbilt and Virginia at Nashville, Auburn and Washington and Lee at Birmingham and Georgia and Florida at Athens, Ga.

Neither Tulane nor Mississippi has a chance to win this season and both are pinned for a hard fight. Starting under the 21 to 0 defeat last Saturday the Georgia team invaded the south determined to become Tech which won last year's game between the two schools 27 to 0.

The game at Lexington, Ky., between Centre College and Kentucky State has attracted considerable interest throughout the south as has the contest at Knoxville between South Carolina and the Navy.

THE BASE BALL WAR

DISSENSION has broken out in the ranks of the two major base ball leagues and the country is now being treated to a wrangle that may bring "the great American sport" into common dispute.

The situation but illustrates how crowds of men are oft thrown in a panic by some sudden development and flutter in circles like a flock of wild-geese, losing its leader. For the turmoil is nothing but the outcome of the exposure of corruption in the world's series games of 1919. That was serious, to be true, but, after all it was more startling in its unexpectedness, rather than in the fact that eight men sold their private honor and besmirched public confidence.

Their baseness did not reveal anything basically wrong in the sport, it more was a startling exhibition of individual corruptness. The public was simply capable of seeing the distinction, and in ordinary course the exposure would have its days and then passed out of any present consciousness. But it was not left to be forgotten. Excited persons raised a great hue and cry about the game being shaken off its base of popular confidence and the only way to move it back was to take the management out of the hands of those who owned and operated it, whose integrity and fair conduct is not questioned, and give it to the keeping of those who have no financial interest therein.

Over this issue, preposterously raised, the clubs have gone to war, though after unseemly contention common sense seems coming to its sway and the prospects for peace are excellent.

THE PRIVATE SOLDIER

THE decision of Great Britain to inter in Westminster Abbey the body of an unidentified private soldier as a tribute to those who served in the ranks is a just recognition of that phase of army service to which not only England but every other nation as well owes its existence. It is necessary to have leaders. An army without commanders is a mob. Its movements must be co-ordinated in order to be effective.

But after the generals have disposed their troops and laid their plans of action it is the private soldier who does the work. It is the man who takes orders, not he who gives them, who is where the fight is hottest. Westminster Abbey is the place of sepulture of England's most illustrious dead. In interring there the body of an unknown private the empire acknowledges its debt to the men whom this unidentified soldier represents. The dead man will not repose any more peacefully than had he lain where he fell, and it matters not to those whose names are inscribed on their tombs surrounding him that they in death are honored above others, but the living may be reminded that the humble and unknown who perform their duty serve humanity as well as those whose names may be written on the scroll of fame.

In this honor done to a private soldier England, a land where classes and distinctions are officially recognized, sets an example that might be imitated by others ostensibly more of democracy. When the most famous men Britain has produced in all her long history must share their burial place with the body of a man whose name even is unknown and whose part in life is equally a mystery, it would seem that class distinctions in the burial of soldiers in this land might be disregarded. The man who gives the best that is in him does as much as another who does more yet is doing only according to his ability. Death knows no distinctions. Men only would seek to impress recognition of a difference.

Portsmouth has a big heart. It is giving generously to the support of the bureau of public service, this in the face of slowing-up business and numerous other insistent calls for benevolences.

The Columbus State Journal, speaks highly of ex-Senator Theodore E. Burton, who will return to congress as a member of the lower house. The praise is deserved, but the query is: How many other Burtons will be found in congress?

A Woman Government Official

(By Frederic J. Macklin)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—While woman politicians proclaim the need of women in the cabinet and in congress, Mrs. Apollonia Adams is showing what a certain type of woman may be expected to do in high office.

As assistant attorney general, appointed last May, she has to hand down legal opinions on various subjects in the government departments. Questions from the people on income tax, for example, are answered by the income tax bureau. But if the tax experts get stuck on a point of their own law, or if some new angle or claim is brought up, the bureau refers the problem to Mrs. Adams, and she gives her opinion, which stands as that of the department of justice.

Likewise, she handles disputed points of the Volstead Act, through the Supreme Court and congress have made the terms of prohibition so plain that there are few doubtful phrases. To Mrs. Adams are also entrusted the legal matters relating to the federal prisons, the war risk insurance, pensions, the Adams eight hour law, and other laws such as the Pure Food and Drug Act and the Safety Appliance Act.

A Place For Brains
To render intelligent opinions on these weighty matters demands definite legal experience and ability. Having to deal with the income tax labyrinth alone would stagger the average man being. Yet Mrs. Adams manages to look cheerful and assures you that the income tax law is in itself not unreasonably complicated, though she admits that the exemptions and surtax provisions are a bit confusing.

She recalls how, before she came from California to be a government lawyer, she herself had a little difficulty with her own tax blank. Its mysteries had been carefully unraveled, except the baffling proposition as to which, liberty bonds were exempt from taxation. She took the inquiry to an income tax expert and he admitted that he had been stumped by the same thing, and that he had finally paid tax on all of them to get it off his mind. Now, Mrs. Adams will not have to bother over the possibility of her interpretation of the tax law being wrong, for if a dispute arises the matter will be referred to her anyway.

Mrs. Adams does not talk much about herself, either her past or what she intends to do. She has introduced no innovations into her branch of the department of justice, but she does not expect to. As a woman in a high government office she is a pioneer, and, to use her own expression, she is making base slowly.

She is also a pioneer as a woman lawyer, who has achieved a national reputation. As a girl she graduated from the State Normal School in California and from the University of California, and taught school while she worked for her degrees. When she was admitted to practice in the California courts and in the federal courts she gave up teaching and, with a partner, went into business for herself. She never specialized in divorces or women's cases, though women who came to her often stated their preference for a woman counsel in business matters.

Her chance came one day when she was pleading a case against the state prosecution. The district attorney had practically assured the accused man of a long sentence, but when Mrs. Adams arose and stated her client's defense in a simple, direct plea, the judge gave the prisoner only six months. The defeated district attorney sought out the counsel for the defense and asked her directly if she would like to be one of his assistants.

First Woman District Attorney
She became the first woman assistant district attorney—a position requiring a good deal of tact, probably for the men were not used to a woman

lawyer in their midst. Where a man would occasionally take a chance, Mrs. Adams pored over details and acquired a reputation for making sure. The district attorney relied on her so extensively that when he became ill, she had to take his place, and eventually, she became the district attorney of northern California, the first woman to hold the office in any state.

In her new position at Washington she has more time to give careful attention to cases. She thinks that this can be overcome, however, and that women are a little inclined to work too much with details, so that by close attention to fine points there is danger of overlooking the main issue. In other words of losing the perspective. A man, has less patience with details.

Mrs. Adams says this with reluctance. She dislikes to make any catalogue of women versus men to show that the woman juror or lawyer is less logical or more emotional than the masculine prototype, because she regards the individual element which makes each person different from the rest as too uncertain a factor for such broad classifications to be worth much. A jury of women, she thinks, is not more likely to be swayed by emotions than a jury of men of a similar degree of mentality.

Mrs. Adams took a life from an impartial matter-of-fact angle—the judicial outlook. With a little smile she says that she has not the "newspaper sense" that the never could read of chatty little incidents about her life. "I have no hobbies," she added, "though I do like to cook and take care of my apartment."

There you have one of the first women executives in the federal government—a widow of pleasant middle age (the forties) who is a hard worker and a lawyer of recognized ability. This first feminine federal attorney believes in keeping the home fires burning, but she does it by going out into the world and hustling for the fuel.

WHO'S WHO In The Days News

JOHN ESCH
Congressman John Esch is slated for either a cabinet position or a place on the Interstate Commerce Commission under the Harding administration, according to political gossip at the national capital.

Esch is chairman of the house interstate and foreign commerce committee. His appointment is to be a reward for his part in the framing the Esch-Cummins transportation act, according to gossip. Secretary of commerce would be the logical place for him in the cabinet. It is pointed out.

Esch was defeated in the Wisconsin primary election. The Plumb League, opposed by Esch, and the Non-Partisan League, caused his downfall.

When he leaves congress in March he will have served in the house twenty-two years. He was born in Newark, Wisconsin, March 20, 1857. He obtained his A. B. degree at the University of Wisconsin and was admitted to the bar in 1887. He served as captain in the Wisconsin national guard and later was judge advocate general with the rank of colonel. He was elected to congress for the first time in 1890.

Questions AND Answers

Q. (Any reader can get the answer to his question by writing The Portsmouth Daily Times Information Bureau, Washington, D. C. This office supplies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medical, and financial matters. It does not attempt to solve domestic troubles, nor is it an exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. What is Harding's favorite flower?
A. R. G.

Q. The chrysanthemum is said to be the favorite flower of our President. Is that so?
A. Yes.

Q. What is the loss of gasoline by evaporation when stored in an underground tank?
A. The Bureau of Mines says that loss by evaporation when gasoline is properly stored in an underground tank is very small. Most dealers figure that one percent would cover all losses.

Q. Why are Indians who served in the late war citizens, while those who served in the Spanish-American war, are not?
A. B. S. D.

Q. The Office of Indian Affairs says that there was an Act of Congress which made Indians who served in the late war citizens of the United States, but did not make those who served in the Spanish-American War, citizens.
A. Yes.

Q. What is a water volcano and where is there one?
A. A water volcano is a term used in the Yellowstone National Park, sometimes styled the "Water Volcano."

Q. Why is the word "plinking" spelled with a "K"?
A. The letter "K" was introduced into the word "plinking" in order to harmonize the sound of the "K" with the word "plinking" which is spelled "plinking" and pronounced like an "A," since it would be followed by a vowel.

Q. Can you tell me which was the last paid army during the late war?
A. Yes.

Q. According to statistics which have been compiled, the Australian Government paid its soldiers the best salaries during the World War and the United States was second on the list.
A. Yes.

Q. How far is the Star of Polaris from the true celestial pole?
A. The pole star is about 10-11 degrees from the true celestial pole. In the time of Hipparchus, it was 12 degrees distant, and it is estimated that by A. D. 2000, through the precession of the equinoxes, the pole star will be less than 10-11 degrees distant.

Q. Is there such a thing as a varnish tree?
A. Yes.

Q. This native is given to several trees because their resinous juice is used for varnishing or lacquering. In India, Japan, Java, Sumatra, Borneo, Celebes, and other East Indian islands are the homes of these trees.
A. Yes.

Q. Has any substance been found which is absolutely cold?
A. The Bureau of Standards says that heat is a property possessed by all known substances. Heat and cold are only relative terms. A cold body possesses less heat than a hot one. Absolute cold would be found at the absolute zero of temperature which has never been reached in scientific researches. At this temperature, all known gases would cease to exist as solids and be changed to liquids or to solids.

Q. What causes bread to be streaked?
A. M. T.

Q. Streaked bread may result from one of several causes—uneven mixing and kneading, starting baking with oven too hot, setting dough in too warm a place, crust formed in first rising. The first reason is the usual one and can be remedied by careful and thorough mixing and kneading of the dough.
A. Yes.

Q. What are the days of the week named after?
A. The days of the week were named after the following: Sunday, named after the sun; Monday for the Moon; Tuesday for Tiuco; Wednesday for Woden or Odinn; Thursday for Thor; Friday for Frey; and Saturday for Saturn. Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday were named for Norwegian gods.

DOC KOKO'S KOLUM

The Reporter
It there's hell to pay in China. Or an earthquake in Peru. Or an angry cuckoo, named Dinah. Runs the family up the tree; You may say to it, my Bucky. With a mind all free from care, That a dapper chap, and plucky— A reporter will be there.

So sing a song of sulks. Let them spoil and murder, too; It will all be in the paper. In the morning, if it's true.

If a lady with a pistol Shows her lover in the knee, Or a merchant in old Bristol In a tub sets out to sea; You may bet your shekels, Bucky, He'll weather foot or fair. Though the way be rough and muddy, A reporter will be there.

Somewhat Preliminary
All employees of restaurants or hotels must file their death certificates with Mr. Herzberger, the Sanitary Inspector, before June 30. After that date, prosecutions will be instituted.—Johnstown (Pa.) Leader.

The Old Fashioned Weather Man
During a slight drizzle Doc was wishing for rain, when Willie said: "My grandpa can make it rain whenever he wants to. He just gets rheumatism in his knees and it rains right afterwards."

No Evidence Necessary
The monthly salaries were in progress at the mining camp of Howling Wolf, and the courtesan was crowded with a motley throng, who took it as a sign of good omen that the judge would be there.

The uproar got worse and worse, and at last the judge could bear it no longer. An imposing figure, he arose to his feet and followed out: "Gentlemen, and also prisoners, I must insist on order in the courtroom. Here I've tried four cases already and haven't been able to hear a single word of the evidence."

Mixing Her Studies
At a school examination the examiner asked one child: "What are the products of the Indian Empire?" The unhappy infant began nervously to recite off the list she had not by heart: "Pearls, sir, India produces curries, and pepper and rice and cotton and silk and chutney, and—and—and—"

"Yes, yes," said the examiner, impatiently. "What comes after all that?" Another infant's hand was raised. "Well, you tell her what comes after that."

"Please, sir, India-gestation."

Laundered Gaiety
It was in January, 1910, when everybody in France was getting disgusted with all wars in general and their private one in particular. A colored soldier, engaged in the unheroic task of polishing the road, was leaning on his implement of war—a shovel—reflecting on all the disadvantages of being alive, when a happy dayboy wearing three service chevrons passed, singing at the top of his lungs.

The darky gazed incredulously at the soldier and his service chevrons and then returned his attention to the landscape.

"Muh Lawd!" he muttered. "At mah doah been over heah sixteen months and he still know some lunk besides 'Hark, from de Tomb.'"

An Improvement
"This prohibition helped your business, didn't it?" "I can't say that it has. But I will of for the Sun's Monday for the Moon; Tuesday for Tiuco; Wednesday for Woden or Odinn; Thursday for Thor; Friday for Frey; and Saturday for Saturn. Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday were named for Norwegian gods.

New-York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MONTGOMERY

NEW YORK, Nov. 13, 1920.—There is a strange and distinct class of society in New York, born of an overwhelming desire to see the rich. They are the "social" tickets for the army of cheap poets, hum sculptors and devotees of every brand of fad in exchange for laudatory adulation.

A shallow cloak model marries a parvenu. She reads of Mrs. De Puyter-Puyter entertaining a Tigre in her Fifth Avenue mansion. And so she goes off for a week. They are not hard to find. Every Greenwich Village coffee house bulges with them.

You can tell them by their long hair and soulful looks. To his circle he has arrived. His circle "The Circle of Passion" has been used as a filthy sex magazine. He is invited to dine at the home of the newly-rich.

He speaks of his friends. Gaiety, the Russian free love advocate. Mim, who writes free verse. Free because say this for him since he's taken to drinking perfumes and toilet waters, his breath smells a whole lot sweeter than it used to.

Explanation A Plenty
A Chinese author sent a manuscript to a local editor, who returned it with this first but polite note of refusal: "We have read the manuscript with infinite delight. By the sacred usages of our ancestors we swear that we have never before revealed in so thrilling a masterpiece. If we wished it, we should henceforth be obliged to take it as a model, as a standard of quality and achievement, and henceforth never print anything inferior to it."

"As it would be impossible to find its equal in 10,000 years, and we have to go to press with our poor, unimproved paper once a day, we are compelled, though shaken with sorrow and blinded with tears at the necessity, to return thy divine manuscript, and for doing so we ask a thousand pardons."

Marked Improvement
Little Beryl, aged ten, was a very pretty and intelligent girl, but she had one fault—she was inclined to be vain. At every available opportunity she gazed at herself complacently in the looking-glass. Her fond papa noticed that the habit was growing upon her and took upon himself the duty of correcting it.

"Why do you always look in the glass?" he asked. "I was just thinking how nice I looked," answered Beryl. "You mustn't be so vain, child. Remember we are all as nature made us."

"Did nature make you, papa?" "Yes."

"Then," said Beryl, looking at him and then at her reflection in the mirror, "don't you think nature is turning out better work than she used to?"

To Tobacco
Tobacco is a filthy weed—I like it. It satisfies no normal need—I like it. It makes you thin, it makes you lean, it takes the hair right out of your head, it's the worst damn stuff I ever seen—I like it.

Two Country
In one of the smaller cities in central France used by a divided headquarters during the winter of 1918-1919, Alphonse the barber endeavored to learn to speak English. To this end he was diligently coached by numerous tank dispatch-bearers, serenoists, major and clerical workers, and Alphonse learned fast.

No less a personage than the commanding general of the division strode into the barber shop one day and demanded a shave in a hurry. Alphonse, who was tending a lowly saluted customer, knew rank when he saw it and rose to the occasion.

"Sairtainlee, mon general," he replied, bowing with true French politeness. "Set down, mon general, an' you be next, you be next!" The general waited.

No Ought To Know
Yanilford—"I've called to collect the rent." Little O—"Please, sir, mamma's out and forgot to leave it." Landlord—"How do you know she forgot it?" Little O—"Because she said so."
